

ELECTED CAPTAIN OF WAKE FOREST

Carl Betts, Left End, Chosen to Lead Eleven in Fall of 1911.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Wake Forest, N. C., December 1.—The football squad met yesterday and elected Carl Betts, of Rome, Ga., captain for the team of next year. Betts is a member of the junior class, having entered the sophomore class last year. Two years ago he was captain of the team of the Raleigh High School, and was a member of the team of the college last year. This year at left end he has been a mainstay of the team. He is quick to get down on punts, a sure and hard kicker, a master at breaking up interference, and has superb endurance. He will always set an example for teammates. In two years he has missed but three practices, and these on account of injuries, and has not been late to a single one. In his class-room Betts is a good student, and has an enviable average on all his work. He is only nineteen years of age, is six feet tall and weighs 150 pounds. With the election of captain one naturally looks on the record of the team of this year and the prospects for a team next year. From the standpoint of games won the team has been a failure, but the experience gained by the men will be invaluable to them next season. When school opened this fall only one captain of last year's eleven returned. No one hoped to have a winning squad under such circumstances, but every one has been working hard during the entire season. Football being only in its infancy at this place, teams who have played football for years were engaged. Through the season have not been in favor of Wake Forest, the experience gained has been beneficial. Coach Rowe has had in his class squad twenty-two men who have played in part of three intercollegiate games, besides three others who have participated in two games. Of the entire squad only five, only four seniors, three of these being substitutes, and the regular player will return next year for his M. A. degree, as will one of the sophomores, the remaining twenty-two men three are juniors, eight are sophomores and ten are freshmen. Besides these there is one senior team which will return. With these as a nucleus Wake Forest expects to put into the field a team that can cope with the eleven of other colleges of this section.

NO CLASS TO CARD AT JACKSONVILLE

Donald McDonald, Ruling Favorite, Wins Best Race of Day.

Jacksonville, Fla., December 1.—With the exception of the fourth race, there is little class in today's card. In this race, a purse event at a mile, scratches reduced the field to two starters, with Donald McDonald ruling 1 to 3 favorite in the betting. The latter jumped into the lead at the fall of the flag and led to the stretch, where Master Robert overtook him, and looked like the winner, but Troxler, went to work on the favorite and responding gamely to the urging, Donald McDonald again forged to the front, winning by a neck, while Master Robert beat Rob. R. three lengths for the place.

First race—selling, two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs—Ladassette (3 to 1), first; Husky Lad (1 to 3), second; Splinters (5 to 1), third. Time, 1:45.8.

Second race—selling, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Abrasion (7 to 1), first; Em (1 to 1), second; Shawnee (even), third. Time, 1:35.5.

Third race—selling, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Claque (5 to 1), first; L. L. Bailey (1 to 2), second; Ida D. (2 to 5), third. Time, 1:45.5.

Fourth race—purse for all ages, mile—Donald MacDonald (1 to 3), first; Master Robert (2 to 1), second; Rob. R. (out), third. Time, 1:35.5.

Fifth race—selling, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Salvolette (8 to 1), first; Mon. Am. (1 to 2), second; Edwin L. (7 to 10), third. Time, 1:42.5.

Sixth race—selling, three-year-olds and up, mile—Ladassette (3 to 1), first; Splinter (5 to 1), second; Banbury (7 to 1), third. Time, 1:45.5.

Creates New World's Record.
New York, December 1.—Willie Hoppe, of this city, who holds the world's championship at 147 and 152 lb. in the world's record average of 33.5-15 to 16, in the first of his 1,000-point match at 152 lb. balk-line with point match, the former champion, who is the challenger.

Winners Not Announced.
Waynesboro, Ga., December 1.—There were twenty-one entries in the first stake of the Continental Field Trial Club here today. Southern Belle, owned by B. S. Dunbar, of Augusta, Ga.; More Money, Kentucky; Bear River, owned by Master Devereaux and Boad, did not start. Good bird work was done in the afternoon. The winners were not announced.

Siphons of Sparkling Beautiful Water, Always Ready for Use

Does not get flat like bottled waters. Fine for "high balls." Relieves Nausea, Indigestion, Dyspepsia.
Per dozen quarts ..... $1.00
Per half-dozen quarts ..... 60c

Phone Madison 106.

Beaufort Lithia Water Co.

W. Fred Richardson,

FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND

EMBALMER,

Main and Belvidere Streets.

Phones, Madison 843, day; Monroe 642, night.

"Lucca Olive Oil"

IN EVERY PANTRY WHERE PURITY PREVAILS.

CHASIE TRAFIERI, Importer,

Med. 4220. 500 West Main St.

"From Makers to Wearers"

and no Agents' Profits. If you will just stop and think for a moment what such a broad gauge, economic, mercantile proposition means to you and your pocketbook, when you fully understand that notwithstanding the marked Superiority of Burk Tailored Apparel, they come to you at actually Lower Prices than the incomparably inferior sorts elsewhere, we feel morally sure that you will buy your Winter Clothing at this Appareling Headquarters.

Suits and Overcoats above the ordinary.

$12.50, $15, $18, $20 and $25

Burk & Company,

808 East Main Street.

BOWLERS READY FOR BIG SPORT

League Teams Shifted About in Order to Get Them More Evenly Matched.

New teams were formed and a more evenly distributed schedule was arranged last night when the Richmond Bowling Association was reorganized. The same officers—S. N. Williams, president; C. Curry, vice-president; W. A. Quinn, secretary, and W. H. Spilling, treasurer—were chosen, the meeting being purely for the purpose of perfecting a more complete organization, that the interests of bowling in this city may expand.

The large attendance was a guarantee of the interest in this sport. Considerable rivalry has been aroused by the handsome trophy cup offered by The Times-Dispatch, and each team has announced its intention of fighting hard for the prize.

Under the new plan everything appears to be plain sailing for the association, for as far as possible all points and games have been covered to give an equal chance.

The opening contest of the new schedule will be Monday night, when the Times-Dispatch six will meet the Plumbers.

The teams are now made up as follows:

Times-Dispatch—Whitman, captain; Bailey, Beck, Bixby, Barrow, Hulcher, Engravers—Quinn, captain; Williams, Purdie, Cosby, Handley, Montague.

American Locomotive Works—Baxter, captain; Kennedy, Glaze, Gallagher, O'Brien, Sweeney.

Meat Packers—Curry, captain; Bell, Rose, Gunn, Dowling, Hockaday.

Jewelers—Spilling, captain; Sutterlin, Williams, Biley, Martin, Beel.

Plumbers—Booker, captain; Blain, Roy, Delaney, Cook, Langhorne.

Hardly Meddlesome Minstrels.

Billed with becoming modesty as "John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels, A Prodigious Band of Stellar Lights of Modern Minstrelsy," and coming, actually, straight from Petersburg, last night, at the Academy of Music was, in all charity, somewhat disappointing.

As a matter of fact, in the first half of the performance, the minstrel show proper, there was only one man worthy of mention—Charles Gano, who was extremely amusing with his mock serious expression of a rascal. The company is small, there are no voices and the chorus is poor, to say the least.

Of the second half, there were two vaudeville acts of interest. A man named John Goss put over a trick bone solo—just common bones that a circus barker could have sold for a dime. There was, however, a certain amount of humor, and there was a remarkable contortionist who squeezed himself into a box of incredibly small dimensions.

The curtain went down on a very crude ending of a skit written and played by Gano, which drew screams of laughter from the top-heavy house of the Wells.

The evening was saved by the fact that the curtain fell at 10:30.

W. D. G.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy—Ethel Barrymore in "Mid-Channel."

Bijou—"The Turning Point."

Lulu—Vaudeville.

Hardly Meddlesome Minstrels.

Billed with becoming modesty as "John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels, A Prodigious Band of Stellar Lights of Modern Minstrelsy," and coming, actually, straight from Petersburg, last night, at the Academy of Music was, in all charity, somewhat disappointing.

As a matter of fact, in the first half of the performance, the minstrel show proper, there was only one man worthy of mention—Charles Gano, who was extremely amusing with his mock serious expression of a rascal. The company is small, there are no voices and the chorus is poor, to say the least.

Of the second half, there were two vaudeville acts of interest. A man named John Goss put over a trick bone solo—just common bones that a circus barker could have sold for a dime. There was, however, a certain amount of humor, and there was a remarkable contortionist who squeezed himself into a box of incredibly small dimensions.

The curtain went down on a very crude ending of a skit written and played by Gano, which drew screams of laughter from the top-heavy house of the Wells.

The evening was saved by the fact that the curtain fell at 10:30.

W. D. G.

Ethel Barrymore.

Ethel Barrymore, in "Mid-Channel," the great play written by that master among living English playwrights, Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, will be seen at the Academy to-night and to-morrow matinee and night.

Mrs. Barrymore is appearing in but a few of the leading roles, and makes this season. Just at present she is hurrying back to New York to begin rehearsals in Pinero's beautiful play of the black pugilist, "The Fighting Temeraire." She is to produce this play at the Empire Theatre in New York about the first of the year.

Will Fight Langford.

Detroit, Mich., December 1.—Hugo Kelly, through his manager to-night, attacked the preliminaries for a fight with Sam Langford in Los Angeles, January 12. It will be for twenty rounds. Langford's manager, in California, wired the terms under which the black pugilist would fight, and Kelly agreed to them. The winner will get 75 per cent. of the gate receipts. Kelly is appearing in a theatre here.

Victory for Detroit.

Havana, December 1.—The Detroit baseball team defeated the Almendares nine here to-day, 3 to 2, in eleven innings.

Denounces Accusers

Dulany Says Charge Against Him Is Dirty, Black-Heated Lie.

Yazoo City, Miss., December 1.—L. C. Dulany, wealthy planter and prominent in the political affairs of Mississippi, denounced his accusers to-day and described the charge that he sought to bribe a member of the State Senate to vote for United States Senator Leroy Percy, during the recent senatorial contest as a "dirty, black-heated lie."

Dulany was the last witness introduced by the defense in his trial to-day. Votes were tendered him for a jury by Mrs. Neal Lawrence, who has avowed that she acted as the "go-between," but he replied to her that that she was "being made a fool of."

Two thousand dollars was the amount Dulany asked for, according to State Senator Theodore Bilbo, whose indictment alleges, was bribed, but he had never said and promised to pay him for his vote in caucus.

LION GETS LOOSE ON SHIP AT SEA

Kills One Sailor and Drives Others to Places of Safety.

DESPERATE FIGHT ON DECK

Animal, Pierced by Several Bullets, Leaps Into the Water.

New York, December 1.—The horror of an hour at sea, when in a storm that beat their vessel until it seemed each plunge must be her last, a lion broke from its cage on deck, killed a seaman and took charge until it was driven into the sea by a fusillade of revolver bullets, still lived with the crew of a German freight steamer, the Berkenfels, as the vessel lay at quarantine with her decks in order and her spars and houses shining with soap and paint.

It was Henry Petker, second officer, who told the story.

The lion, with another, its mate, was taken aboard at Bombay. The heavy cage containing the animals was lashed in the after well at the break of the poop, and in the fair weather that favored the steamship until two weeks ago, neither lion showed signs of dissatisfaction. Although they had come to maturity in the freedom of an East Indian jungle, the beasts seemed docile and contented.

The vessel ran into "dirt," as seamen say, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

LION GETS LOOSE ON SHIP AT SEA

Kills One Sailor and Drives Others to Places of Safety.

DESPERATE FIGHT ON DECK

Animal, Pierced by Several Bullets, Leaps Into the Water.

New York, December 1.—The horror of an hour at sea, when in a storm that beat their vessel until it seemed each plunge must be her last, a lion broke from its cage on deck, killed a seaman and took charge until it was driven into the sea by a fusillade of revolver bullets, still lived with the crew of a German freight steamer, the Berkenfels, as the vessel lay at quarantine with her decks in order and her spars and houses shining with soap and paint.

It was Henry Petker, second officer, who told the story.

The lion, with another, its mate, was taken aboard at Bombay. The heavy cage containing the animals was lashed in the after well at the break of the poop, and in the fair weather that favored the steamship until two weeks ago, neither lion showed signs of dissatisfaction. Although they had come to maturity in the freedom of an East Indian jungle, the beasts seemed docile and contented.

The vessel ran into "dirt," as seamen say, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the bars. The ship's carpenter, sounded the alarm, and fastenings and reported all well, and Captain Friedrich and his officers forced the lions into the cage and humored their vessel through his seas.

Men Terror Stricken.

Captain Friedrich's crew above decks were all Lascars in charge of a native seaman, when 200 miles south and west of Bermuda two weeks ago, and the lions became restive. All of one mysterious day they roared and yelled, and noon the next day found one of them cowering with fear in a corner of the cage and the other hurled his body at the